

Policy re Home and School Use of School Owned Assistive Technology (Pupils and Parents)

Rationale

This policy, the terms and conditions and the attached agreement was compiled in line with Department of Education and Skills Circular 10/2013 in relation to essential assistive technology equipment for pupils with physical or communicative disabilities.

The purpose of the document is to ensure clear guidelines for home and school use of specialist equipment which has been recommended by the National Council for Special Education (NCSE) as being essential for pupils who have been diagnosed as:

- having a serious disability
- and/or sensory or communicative disability to the extent that their ability to communicate through the medium of speech or writing is materially curtailed
- where it is clear that existing equipment in the school is insufficient to meet the child's needs
- where without such equipment it will not be possible for such children to access the school curriculum

Although equipment is sanctioned to support a particular pupil, the equipment is sanctioned to the school and will, as a general rule, remain the property of the school and be available for allocation to other or subsequent pupils with similar disabilities.

Such a circumstance might be where it is agreed that the pupil could potentially benefit from, or achieve a degree of improvement to their academic and educational performance, their learning and their completion of homework through the use of technical support or equipment such as a school laptop.

This agreement endeavours to ensure the safe custody and handling of the equipment when in the care of the pupil outside of the school.
